Vehicle Description

Beautiful 2004 Chrysler inferno red exterior that still shows well with a few touched up chips from use. Big block hood was added. It has a tan leather interior with a custom center armrest that houses the heated seat controls. The heated seat units were custom installed in the stock seats using new foam and factory style leather covers. There is also a manual lumbar adjustment on the drivers seat as well. The top is tan and is still as new. (no hardtop) It has a custom installed Fusion stereo system that sounds great.

Factory air conditioning is complete but has not been recharged in years. Tilt wheel and power steering. Dakota digital gauges. Factory AM/FM radio is not hooked up. Heater and blower motor controls seem to all function properly. Windows roll up and down fine.

The 327 engine (not original) was rebuilt approx. 1100 miles ago. The clutch was replaced and the 4 speed transmission shifts well. Power 4 wheel disc brakes with Wilwood calipers. Global West tubular control arms. 17" American Racing wheels.

Most items on the car received some attention when it was put together. I have a large stack of receipts that go with the car. The original California black plates on the car, not reissues or year of manufacturer plates. Runs and drives great and still draws a crowd.
