This 1979 Volkswagen Beetle convertible shows just under 12k miles and was sold new in New York. It remained with the original owner through August 1997 and then went into the North Carolina-based collection of the second owner, from whose estate it was acquired by me in September 2019. Finished in Mars Red with a white soft top over a black vinyl interior, Factory 15" Lemmerz sport steel wheels, Michelin whitewall tires that are believed to be original. Date codes for both the wheels and tires are pictured in the gallery. The car is powered by the stock fuel-injected 1.6L flat-four paired with a four-speed manual transaxle. Service in January 2020 included a tune-up, a brake system refresh, a new clutch, new battery, new fuel pump, fuel pump relay, and more please see invoice for service in the photos provided in the ad. The Beetle starts up, runs, and drives great. Please take the time to examine the detailed photos of the extremely clean pan, and suspension. Also the narrated video showing a cold start, a walk-around, and an in-car drive provided. The car is sold on a clear clean FL title. Sale includes, 1 key, owners manual, jack, and tool kit.
