2018 KTM 350 XC-F - THE ULTIMATE COMBO

Since Tony Cairoli first took a KTM 350 SX-F to the top of the MX1 World Championship in 2010, the Red Bull KTM athlete has dominated the class aboard this nimble but powerful bike with 5 consecutive world championship titles. No surprises here, with the combination of 450-style muscle and the agility of a 250. Who said you can't have everything?

Features may include:

- ENGINE & EXHAUST

The engine of the KTM 350 SX-F features a compact and very light (60lbs) construction. Its DOHC (double overhead camshaft) design with lightweight titanium valves and DLC coated cam followers allows for lively but strong engine characteristics.

- CYLINDER HEAD

The cylinder head features two overhead camshafts with friction-optimized cam followers boasting a DLC coating and high-flow ports.

- CYLINDER AND PISTON

Inside the short cylinder, with a bore of 88mm, thumps a box-type piston made by CP. Its crown geometry is adapted perfectly to the high-compression combustion chamber (14:1), where its rigid structure and low weight shine.

- CRANKSHAFT

The KTM 350 SX-F's crankshaft utilizes a short connecting rod, which is a clear advantage when it comes to crunch time in the heat of battle.

- COOLING

KTM's proven cooling system routes the coolant from the cylinder head through the frame triangle, which features a special surface treatment on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th gears for best reliability.
