We are proud to offer you this 2007 Porsche

we are proud to offer you this 2007 Porsche 911 Carrera for sale!

This 2007 Porsche 911 Carrera is, like all 911s, the most iconic German car ever to be produced. Powered by a 3.6-liter, flat six-cylinder engine, this fantastic coupe is just about as authentically “Porsche” as a 911 can be. The engine produces a well-engineered 325 horsepower and 273 lb-ft. of torque, all mated to a smooth and reliable six-speed manual transmission that handles just about anything thrown at it. This is quite helpful, given that this is a fantastically fun to drive car, made even more so by its rear-wheel drive layout and a few modifications made to the car. This specific 911 has been fitted with a carbon fiber Fabspeed cold air intake system and an aftermarket dual-exit exhaust system that heightens the engine noise and improves exhaust airflow.
This car, then, can put power down and sound amazing while doing so.

To us, what’s outside the engine bay is just as important as what’s inside it, and this sporty 911 is no exception to this rule. Inside, the Carrera is fitted with an adjustable leather steering wheel, a Porsche infotainment system with navigation and phone connectivity, and a sunroof, which is not common on these cars.

On the exterior, this sweet Porsche comes equipped with 19” Porsche alloy wheels, and the bodywork has a fantastic red and black racing livery on it. And, with its classic Porsche body lines, this sports coupe is a looker from every angle, as well as prime for cruising every single one of the world’s highways, back roads, and race tracks.
