This 1992 Toyota Land Cruiser PZJ70 is a left-hand drive pickup that was refurbished and modified in Costa Rica before being imported to the US in March 2022. It is finished in gray over black leather and is powered by a replacement turbocharged 4.2-liter 1HZ diesel inline-six linked with a five-speed manual transmission and a two-speed transfer case. Equipment includes a custom-fabricated front bumper, a winch, a snorkel, a headache rack, a removable roof, a 60/40 split bench, air conditioning, a Pioneer head unit, LED exterior lighting, an exhaust brake system, lockable front hubs, and 17" Fuel wheels. Suspension modifications performed consisted of the installation of a front shock tower brace, front coilovers, and Profender shocks with remote reservoirs. This PZJ70 shows 423k kilometers (~263k miles) and is now offered by the selling dealer with a clean Texas title.

Originally finished in Light Yellow (558), the body was removed from the frame and repainted in its current shade of gray during the refurbishment. Exterior features include a removable roof, a custom-fabricated front bumper with an integrated brush guard, a Smittybilt winch, a snorkel, a headache rack, side steps, black wheel arch extensions, Land Cruiser-branded mudflaps, and LED headlamps and fog lights. The rear bumper has been removed.

Black-finished 17" Fuel wheels are mounted with 315/70 Maxxis Razr MT tires that show 2014, 2017, and 2020 date codes. Braking is handled by four-wheel drums. The truck features a manually-lockable front axle, and the suspension was reportedly modified by the selling dealer with a steering stabilizer, front shock tower brace, aftermarket spring hangers, front coilovers, and Profender shocks with remote reservoirs.

The 60/40 split bench was re-trimmed in black leather upholstery with white piping and stitching during the refurbishment, and the carpet and headliner are said to have been replaced at that time. Interior equipment includes air conditioning, a Pioneer head unit, JVC speakers, and power windows.

A three-spoke steering wheel fronts a 180-km/h speedometer and auxiliary gauges monitoring coolant temperature and fuel levels. The six-digit odometer shows 423k kilometers (~263k miles)

Power is directed to the rear or all four wheels through a five-speed manual transmission and a dual-range transfer case. Additional photos and driving videos are available upon request.
