Commonly called the R35, a GTR, a Skyline, and Godzilla... The 2013 Nissan GT-R Premium is a sleek and powerful supercar with a twin-turbocharged 3.8-liter V6 engine that produces 545 horsepower and 463 pound-feet of torque. The engine is paired with a six-speed dual-clutch automatic transmission that delivers lightning-fast gear changes with paddle shifting capabilities. It also features all-wheel drive for improved traction and stability, as well as a comfortable interior with leather seats and a Bose sound system. Safety features include electronic stability control, anti-lock Brembo brakes, and front and side multi-stage airbags. Its classic design reflects Nissan's R chassis heritage making it a standout on the road and a top choice for car enthusiasts looking for a thrilling ride. Condition wise, this car has already received its 60,000 mile service and has managed to stay stock over the last 10 years. The only aftermarket part we could spot were the bright orange front seat belts which add a little flare to the interior. Priced to sell FAST, this GT-R might not be around long, so call, click, or come by today!
