Reviews:

* The 2015 Ford Fusion is a hard car to dislike. It offers up style, family sedan practicality, performance, technology and value in one package. That doesn't even include the two hybrid models, bound to appeal to green-driving enthusiasts. Source: KBB.com

* Fuel-efficient turbocharged engines; sharp handling; composed ride; quiet cabin; advanced technology and safety features; eye-catching style; available all-wheel drive. Source: Edmunds

* The 2015 Ford Fusion has the upscale style and front grille that resemble higher-priced European vehicles, yet with a price tag families will appreciate. The interior has a sleek yet accessible modern look, complemented by shiny angled trim that adds to its edgy feel. Also, the Fusion has been given an assortment of interesting colors, boldly angled front headlights, and exciting new wheel designs. Plus, with engine choices that range from 175 to 240 Horsepower on non-hybrid models, it has the power to add excitement back into your driving. The Fusion comes in 6 trims: the Base S, SE, S Hybrid, Hybrid SE, Titanium, and Hybrid Titanium. The Base S Model includes Ford's SYNC wireless communication system with voice control, 16-inch wheels, an AM FM CD Radio with Auxiliary input and four speakers, tilt steering wheel, and manual climate control. It comes with a 2.5-Liter, 4-Cylinder, Duratec Engine, with 6-Speed Automatic Transmission that gets an EPA estimated 22 MPG City and 34 MPG Hwy. The Hybrid model can drive up to 62 mph on electric power alone, and it also switches between the gas and electric motors. Vehicles equipped with the hybrid engine can achieve a combined EPA 42 MPG. More expensive trims give you features like rear air vents, a rearview camera, Sony Premium Sound System with Satellite Radio, leather seats, and a 1.5L or 2.0L turbocharged engine. Plus, look for optional technology like Intelligent All-Wheel Drive, Active Park Assist, Blind-Spot Monitoring, heated and cooled seats, a Navigation System, and the amazing Lane Keeping System.
