Reviews:

* Sharp new look and style; spacious second- and third-row seating; many standard safety technology features; confident handling; available hybrid model. Source: Edmunds

* The 2016 redesigned XC90 puts Volvo at the top of the SUV game. The more assertive styling larger grille, aggressive lower air intakes and slim headlights, manage to be modern without losing the Volvo identity. A redesigned interior fuses leather, wood and even Swedish crystal glass for a cabin with a high-luxury feel, a theme further reinforced by an available Bowers & Wilkins audio system with 19 speakers. Under the hood, XC90 gets the company's new four-cylinder engine that is both supercharged and turbocharged, making 316hp.
