* Please note, the car drives great and shifts well, but it's not perfect, and it can't be perfect considering its price and mileage - it is a very high mileage car, and you have to take that into consideration - third party inspections are welcome and encouraged. As for the negatives: Hood clear coat has micro cracks (very common on black GM paint in California heat) + left rear window chrome trim is a bit worn + left side exhaust manifold has the very common exhaust leak noise when cold - most likely one of the studs holding the exhaust manifold is cracked and lets some exhaust fumes to pass through until it warms up and seals the gap - please have this statement researched - you will see how common this is on GM engines with miles - we are not going to be fixing it - most people leave those alone - priced accordingly - currently the most affordable Escalade ESV Premium on the market. With that said - this Escalade is in spectacular condition considering its age and mileage!
